Regarding the rule making meetings, this might be a good time to bring up something on which I stumbled when trying to assimilate the rules for my new job as Treasurer of Libertarian Party of El Paso County.

page 11, "Contributions and Contribution Limits for Candidates and Candidate Committees," column 2, about halfway down it says, "The date the committee deposits the check into its account is the date of receipt." This is misleading and in conflict with 10.3.1(a) on page 124, "A contribution or donation by check is considered accepted, AT THE LATEST, on the date that the contribution or donation is deposited by the committee into its account." The most sensible and consistent method of reporting contributions by check is the date the valid check comes into possession of the committee.

Thank you,
