However, this may not apply in those exceptions allowable under statute concerning psychologist candidate status.

B. Education and Training Requirements. Many graduate programs in psychology go under other names. Some programs labeled as psychology are not primarily focused on psychology. The Board has therefore established the following factors to determine whether a particular program from which an applicant for licensure received the doctoral degree qualifies as a doctoral program with a major in psychology or its equivalent in compliance with sections 12-245-304(1)(c) and 12-245-301(1) and (5), C.R.S. To meet the statutory requirements, the doctoral program must meet either (1) or (2), below:

1. Accredited program. The applicant obtained a doctoral degree from a program that was accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA); or

2. Equivalent program. The applicant received a doctoral degree from a graduate training program that, at the time s/he was enrolled and received her/his degree, fulfilled the equivalency degree requirements used to define a psychology graduate training program. An applicant asserting a program equivalent to an APA-accredited program in psychology must furnish to the Board evidence in support of the equivalency. Evidence may include narrative descriptions of course-work, institutional documents published contemporaneously with the applicant's enrollment, appropriate certifications or affidavits from university officials, dissertation abstracts, and any other evidence the applicant deems useful. The Board may request additional information from the applicant.

All of the following requirements shall be considered in order to establish equivalency:

- a. The required doctoral level study and doctoral degree were obtained from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning;
- b. The program in psychology stood as a coherent and recognizable entity within the institution, offering an integrated and organized sequence of study planned to provide appropriate training for the practice of psychology;
- c. There was an identifiable full-time faculty, with an individual responsible for the program who was a full-time faculty member and who met the requirements for approval as a supervisor or a person who presents proof satisfactory to the Board, that at the time of serving as the faculty member, s/he possessed essentially the same education, experience, and training as that necessary to qualify for licensure under the Act.
- d. The program had an identifiable body of students who were matriculated in that program for a degree;
- e. The doctoral program included examination and grading procedures designed to evaluate the degree of mastery of the subject matter by the students;
- f. The curriculum encompassed a minimum of three academic years of full-time graduate study including the following substantive content areas:
 - (1) Professional ethics and standards;
 - (2) Research design and methodology: techniques of data analysis, inferential statistics, descriptive statistics, research implementation, program evaluation and assessment;
 - (3) Theories and methods of effective intervention: consultation, supervision, evaluation of treatment efficacy;
 - (4) Theories and methods of assessment and diagnosis;
 - (5) Biological bases of behavior: physiological psychology, neuropsychology, sensation and perception, comparative psychology, psychopharmacology;
 - (6) Cognitive-affective bases of behavior: learning, thinking, motivation, and emotion;
 - (7) Social bases of behavior: social psychology, group processes, organizational and systems theory;

- (8) Individual differences: personality theory, human development, abnormal psychology;
 - (9) Issues of cultural and individual diversity.
 - (10) If the course titles as stated on the transcript do not clearly reflect the subject matters listed above, the applicant must document the course or combination of courses in which the material was covered.
- g. The program included supervised practicum and internship appropriate to the practice of psychology.
- (1) Practicum. The minimum practicum experience is 400 hours, of which at least 150 hours must have been in direct service experience and at least seventy-five hours in formally scheduled supervision.
 - (2) Internship. To be acceptable, internships in clinical psychology must include at least a full-time experience, either for one full-time calendar year or for two half-time calendar years and must encompass at least 1,500 experience hours. To be acceptable, school and counseling psychology internships must include at least a full-time experience, for either an academic or calendar year or for two half-time academic or calendar years and must encompass at least 1,500 experience hours. To be acceptable, internships must be accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA) or be substantially equivalent when compared with the guidelines and principles for accreditation of internships published by the APA.
- h. Only graduate level courses are acceptable as establishing equivalency. The Board will not accept coursework counted or credited toward an undergraduate degree.
3. Foreign-Trained Applicants. Foreign-trained applicants must submit educational credentials to a credentialing agency utilized by the Board for evaluation of equivalency. After course equivalency is established, the Board will evaluate the educational credentials to determine whether or not the program is equivalent to an APA-approved program.
