

Thank you for the opportunity to give public comment on the UVS Pilot Election Equipment. I first of all would like to say that I am currently a HART County and have been since 2006 and I absolutely have no problems with HART or their product and if I did not have to I would not consider changing from HART. I have been listening and following the proceedings closely of the PERC Committee especially during the Pilot phase.

I have concerns with Clear Ballot and ES&S with the them promising things to come in 2016 that will make their equipment bigger and better. I for one don't want to have equipment that is not ready to go and might have something down the road. I want a company that is ready to go and is on the cutting edge of technology in the ever changing election world we live in. I also feel that a new company is not the way to go; for a UVS we need to have a stable, committed, reputable company that we know is going to be around for the long haul.

I use HART and I have seen Dominion Voting live at Denver Elections May 2015 Election and was very impressed with this system. In my opinion I would like to see one of these two systems be the UVS for the State of Colorado. Hart has always given great customer service with the help desk, ballot preparations, printing, mailing and all around product information. They are stable, committed to their customers and a reputable company. Dominion is I feel on cutting edge technology with their system and are also stable, committed to their customers and a reputable company as well.

That is why I would like to see one of these companies be the UVS for the State of Colorado.

Thank you very much.
