Suggestion: reading over proposed rules of Bingo and raffles. I have always been very concerned by the way the pulltabs are sold. the public that play these games of chance are not aware that NOT all the pulltabs in the flare are in play. Whether its a last sale or a regular pulltab it doesnt matter how many pulltabs are in that deal they should all be put in the receptacles even if they have to use 2 receptacles to sell them. The public that support these organizations and play these games will attest to this. This has been a problem for a long time and its time that a new rule is put in play. Pulltabs players feel duped into thinking that when they see a low bucket of pulltabs t are eager to purchase those last pulltabs thinking they will have the last sale prize, only to find out that there are more pulltabs in that deal. When you make rules you need to see what the public wants. If you are not a Bingo player you forget what really goes on. Please revise this rule and make it right. Make every licensee PLACE ALL OF THEIR PULLTABS IN PLAY AT ALL TIMES....it is only fair and its a big part of the fund raising process for all the organizations.
