Dear Secretary Williams,

I'm writing with a big request. Please! do not support internet voting ballots for the military and overseas voters. Personal Information Privacy is a big concern. With our intelligent criminal internet hackers these days, we cannot give in one iota on this issue. Also, the third party vendor would have the voters' personal information.

This, if in effect, would also create a slippery slope for internet voting for all. Please do not support Internet voting

Thanks you,

Kathleen Sullivan

THE LITTLE WHITE HERON

Vol. I, plate 77 in *The Natural History of Carolina,
Florida, and the Bahama Islands*

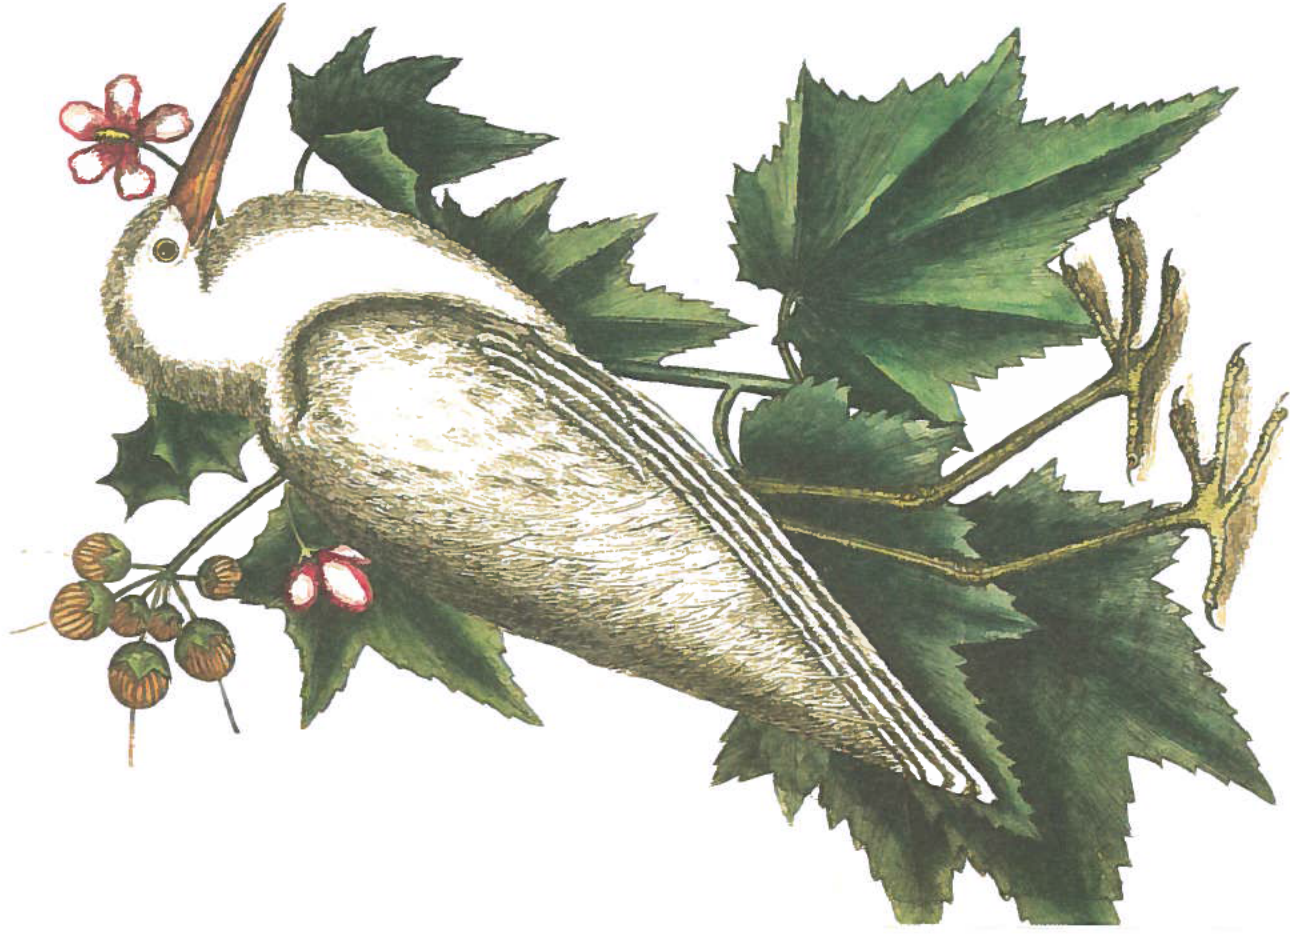

Designed and engraved by Mark Catesby (1683-1749)
London, England, 1731-1743

In 1712 and again in 1722, British naturalist Mark Catesby traveled to the New World to study and observe the flora and fauna. For four years, he painted the birds and flowers of Virginia and the Carolinas until his return to England whereupon he taught himself to etch.

This image is a reproduction of the original etching by Catesby in Colonial Williamsburg's collection.
