I disagree with the new rules. I spent enough money and time taking the course and I don't recover that cost with being a notary. I find it unfair to ask notaries to be required to complete more training every renewal. I believe there are enough strict guidelines for notaries as it is. Let's leave this issue alone and pursue making stricter rules and training courses for all the people abusing our welfare system. That would be a better use of our state departments time and money.

Thank you
