Most of the changes to the rules seem reasonable. I have a comment regarding the change to Rule 3.5: Unless the CO SOS's office is aware of and/or experienced problems with vendors updating their notary training materials/methods properly, adding a mandatory approval step seems unnecessary. Alternatively, if the SOS retained the option to do so randomly (and actually performed some random quality control checks), this would be less burdensome on the vendors as a whole and the CO SOS staff.
