If any updated rules or information is made available to examine and incorporate into our daily processes I believe the "taking a course and passing a test" is completely unnecessary to those of us who are long time notaries with no infractions of any kind. I have held a Colorado Notary Commission for 40 years and apprise myself of new developments as I feel it's my responsibility to do so.

If closer regulation is necessary anywhere I believe it should be in the e-notarization area, there is so much e-fraud now.

Thank you.
