I don't believe this new remote notarization is going to be a good thing for the multitude of notaries that do mortgage signings. I believe most companies will hire people at minimum wage have them get their notary license and have them perform the notarizations remotely putting the rest of us out of business. There will be hundreds if not thousands of notaries put out of business. I understand tech advances but tech continues to take away jobs and this will do the exact same thing.

I also don't believe a notary should be responsible for recording and maintaining the transaction recordation as notaries already have a multitude of expenses to cover on minimal wages.

Thank you!
